Pennsylvania Man Named Principal of Telstar by M. S. A. D. #44 Board

The M. S. A. D. #44 board of directors named Wayne F. Gersen of Philadelphia, Pa., as principal of Telstar Regional High School for the 1977-78 school year at their meeting held at the high school on Monday evening of this week.

Since 1974, Mr. Gersen has been assistant principal of Darby-Colwyn Senior High School, Darby, Pa. He attended public schools in Utah, Oklahoma, and Pennylvania, graduating from Henderson High School, West Chester, Pa. He received his bachelor of science degree from Drexel University in 1970, and completed his doctorate in educational administration at the University of Pennsylvania in 1975.

While at Drexel University, he participated in the school's five-year work-study program, working one year for the Ford Motor Company and six months for the Mobil Oil Corporation.

Mr. Gersen is married, with a seven year old daughter. His interests include jogging, tennis, music and renovation. He is expected to assume his new duties shortly after July 1.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Richard Collins, as teacher of social studies and coach of football at Telstar. Mr. Collins has been at the local school since 1971, having football teams that shared in the state Class "C" championships in 1972 and 1973. He has accepted a position with the Lewiston School Department as teacher and coach of football.

The board approved the school calendar for the 1977-78 school year.

It was the decision of the directors to re-schedule the Annual District Meeting, setting the date of Monday evening, June 6, at 7:30 in the Telstar Auditorium. It was not considered feasible to meet the original date of May 23 due to continued deliberation by the State Legislature in the area of school funding.

The board approved a field trip for 59 third and fourth graders at Woodstock Elementary School plus 12 chaperones to Popham Beach, Brunswick, or Crescent Beach, Cape Elizabeth, in early June. The trip is in connection with an Ocean unit of their social studies program.

Also approved were the following field trips requested by Telstar teachers: Lawrece Arsenault, Perham's Mineral Store, West Paris, Greenwood and Hebron, 10 students, early June; Ann Holt, Special Olympics, Colby College, 10 students, June 10; David Tripp, CMVTI, 25 students, May 18; Tim Kersey, Gray Fish Hatchery, 35 students, early June; Ralph Niemi, Mt. Blue High School, Farmington, skid demonstration, 75 students, date to be determined.

The board authorized the purchase of an 84 passenger transit type Bluebird diesel bus, at a cost of $33,394.

Any further consideration of job descriptions for supervisors in the areas of buildings and grounds, transportation, and hot lunch; and in the matter of a business manager were passed over until an agreement with bus drivers, custodians and hot lunch personnel was ratified.

Superintendent Kenneth Smith reviewed the revenues that currently appear available to fund a budget for fiscal year 1978.

The board will hold a special meeting next Monday evening, May 23, in the Telstar Library at 7:30. Agenda items will include finalization of the FY78 budget and warrant for District meeting.

Board members not present Monday evening: Gerald Schachter, Andover, and Andrew Hinkley of Woodstock.

BOY SCOUT CAMPOREE

Boy Scout Troop 565 will meet at the A. & P. parking lot at 3:30 Friday afternoon, May 20, to leave for the Camporee to be held in Rumford, May 20-21-22. Boys are reminded to bring their parental permission slips. Boys needing a ride should call Phil Korhonen, Scoutmaster, at 824-2796.

Mrs. Florence Thurston moved this week to the Dixfield Nursing Home, Dixfield, Maine. 04224

PORTLAND SYMPHONY STRINGS IN GOULD CONCERT MAY 19

The Portland Symphony String quartet will present a concert in Gould Academy's Bingham Hall on Thursday, May 19, at 8:00 p. m. This is the final performance in Gould Academy's 1976-1977 Guest Artist and Lecturer series, sponsored in part by the Maine State Commission on the Arts and Humanities. The program will include works by Beethoven, Piston and Dvorak. The public welcome to attend.

The members of the String Quartet, Stephen Kecskemethy (violin), Julia Moseley, (viola), Ronald Lantz, (violin), and Paul Ross, (violincello), are all principals of the Portland Symphony Orchestra.

CUB SCOUT PACK 566 SPONSORING CAN DRIVE

Cub Scout Pack 566 is again sponsoring a drive to recycle aluminum beverage cans. The cans will be sold to a beverage distributor in Portland to be melted and reused by the container industry. The Cub who collects the greatest weight in cans will receive a prize, and all money realized from the project will be used to help send the Pack to Camp Bomazeen this summer.

All Cubs are asked to bring their cans to the Pack meeting on Tuesday, May 31 for weighing. If anyone in the community has cans to donate, please contact a neighboring Cub or call Steve Wight, Recycling Coordinator, at 824-2410.

Excavation started this week at the construction site of the addition to the Bethel IGA Market.

Earl Davis returned home Tuesday from Rumford Community Hospital after being a patient there for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranald Stevens were week end guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker Jr., Milford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders recently spent several days with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Trebs and Jason, Mio, Mich. Mr. Trebs has just received a promotion and transfer so they will be moving soon to Marcell, Minn., where he will begin work on June 6.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting Tuesday, May 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the lecture room at Telstar for anyone interested in forming a community theatre in Bethel. A comedy production will be put on this summer if enough interest is shown.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Bethel Airport Advisory Commitee met Thursday night, May 12, at the Town Office. Town Manager Norman Ness informed the Committee that the Federal Aviation Administration is considering eliminating Col. Dyke Field from the National Airports System because of the limited number of aircraft based at the field. The manager also explained other criteria that can be used to substantiate why Col. Dyke Field should be kept on the plan. It is important that the airport be kept on the plan in order for the town to remain eligible for federal financial assistance in undertaking the Master Plan.

The Committee spent the remainder of the meeting listing reasons why the field should be kept on the national plan and drafting a letter to be sent to consulting organizations asking them for a proposal for undertaking the Master Planning process. The next meeting was scheduled for mid-June following receipt of consultant proposals.

The Assessors are continuing work on the 1977 assessment. Field work to update real estate changes since April 1, 1976, is nearly complete and the assessors will be working on personal property and tree growth during the next couple of weeks. More field work has been necessary than was originally anticipated and the assessors now hope to complete their work by the middle of June.

The Budget Committee will meet Thursday night, May 19 (tonight) at 7:30 p. m. in the Town Office to make a recommendation on a special town meeting article to consider the purchase of two-way FM radios for the Highway Department.

The Selectmen will meet Monday night, May 23, at 7 p. m. in the Town Office. The major item of consideration will be putting together the warrant for a special town meeting scheduled for Tuesday, May 31.

Norman R. Ness, Jr.

MANN'S MILL SITE OF MAINE POWER ASSN. MEETING

Members of the Maine Antique Power Association, Inc., held their annual picnic on Sunday, May 15, at the former Mann's Mill in Bryant Pond. Sixty-three members were in attendance and enthusiastically viewed the old steam engine and other machinery which will be preserved when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robiller convert this building to a restaurant as part of their planned "Robiller's Resort" on the property. The Association has offered to help with the restoration of the engine, which is the second largest in the state of Maine and the largest one in operable condition.

The Maine Antique Power Association, whose objective is the preservation of the history of engines, labor saving devices and other machinery from the past, has a museum started at Owl's Head, where they will be having summer week end working displays. The Grand Opening at the Owl's Head site will be May 22. Other exhibitions of old working engines are scheduled for June 12, Hartford; 25, Mechanic Falls; July 2-4, Boothbay Railway Museum; 9, Warren; Aug. 13-14, a rally at Owl's Head, Rockland, and Oct. 1-2 in Berwick.

The public is invited to attend any of these power exhibitions and to visit the museum at Owl's Head, Rockland, for a fascinating look at many antique planes, autos and other vehicles and steam engines, all in operation each week end. The museum is also open week days for viewing, but the engines are idle.

West Bethel

— Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Corres. —

The people of this community were sorry to hear of the death of Edward Haines of Steam Mill Village, Bethel. His son, Gilbert Haines and family, live in West Bethel. Our sympathy to them and all other relatives and friends.

We were all so sorry to learn of the sudden death Sunday morning of Ernest Grover of Mechanic Falls. He was born and brought up in the town of Mason, so had many friends, as well as relatives in this area. Our sympathy to his family and all relatives and friends.

Two houses were erected in the new area in West Bethel last week. One for Thomas Westleigh, was moved on to the foundation, which was already built on the lot which he had cleared earlier this spring. The other house was put on the foundation the same day. I understand that one will be used at present for a show place. It may be open to the public later, as the first house built in the area was.

Mr. and Mrs. James Blaquiere of Norway visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, Saturday night. They had supper at Jordan's Restaurant, Locke Mills, on their way to West Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell and family of Falmouth were names omitted from the list of guests in last week's paper, who had visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell on Mothers Day week end. Sorry for the error. It may have been my fault, or the printers, in printing the list of names.

I celebrated my 83rd birthday on May 11 with a lovely supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis, my next door neighbor. Following the supper I was invited to the home of my son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert, where I was surprised to find a gathering of 26 relatives. I received gifts from all present and some from relatives who were unable to attend. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, brownies, crackers, punch and coffee were served. The lovely birthday cake made and decorated by my granddaughter, Sheila Head, was the centerpiece of the refreshment table which was lit up by tapers.

A special editorial in The Legion paper last week doesn't make good reading. It concerns veterans pensions and compensations. Sounds like welfare.

Not many news. I was sick four days so didn't get out to round up the gossip and news.

Improvement Can Be Costly

You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance—mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation, too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.

Elsie Fuller went to the hospital in Rumford for x-ray check up Friday.

Horace Goodrum and family were at their camp over the week end.

George Scott bought a new roto tiller in Bethel last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aron Sr., went Friday for a visit in Connecticut. They returned Monday evening.

Plans are being made for a Memorial day observation. Present plans include a parade and a tour through the cemetery with instruction on accepted behavior and a program which will include some historical excerpts pertaining to those buried in the cemetery or who will write to me or Larry Wade with bits of facts about those buried in the cemetary or their families will be thanked warmly. We wish to know of those who served in the armed forces, where they lived while in town, their relationship to others in the area, what they did for a living and whatever else you know about them. A picnic is in the planning stage. Barbeques will be set up for hamburg and hot dogs with a small charge for these and coffee or punch. It is suggested that each family bring a salad or dessert. This will not be mandatory as campers and others may not know of the occasion until that day.

May is now half over! Tuesday, May 10, I went to Lewiston with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and brother John. On the way down it was like a heavy rain; but showed white as it touched the windshield. The weather was so raw one hated to get out of the car.

A word of caution. With the heavy winds we have had all week the woods are tinder dry. My neighbors found this out Sunday noon when they started a fire in their fireplace for a cookout. A spark must have flown out into some pine needles and in a matter of seconds had gone over quite a patch. Frank ran up with his fire extinguisher so it was under control when the fire engine got there. So, if you want to travel in the woods, either for hiking, fishing or biking, please be careful.

The Pete Coolidge's have put their cattle out to pasture in Angevine's pasture and the Thurston's have put cattle out.

STATE OF MAINE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Karen L. Brown

On Monday the Committee on Energy had a hearing on L. D. 1468, "AN ACT to Provide Home Winterization for Older Citizens".

In 1974, Maine had the first winterization program in the nation, funded for $478,000 by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The program is now nationwide, but now Maine is only allocated $245,000 for the coming year. This federal money can only be spent on winterization materials.

The 13 Maine Community Action Programs which run the federal winterization program locally have "winterization" crews who estimate and schedule jobs and do actual labor. L. D. 1468 would allocate $16,800 to pay for the labor to install the federally funded winterization material in Maines's Older Citizens' homes. This program has winterized 8,000 homes since 1974.

In 1976, Oxford County received $24,900 funding for local Community Action Programs. From this money, 22 homes were winterized in my District at a cost of $3,715.

The Republican Youth Caucus, which I am a member of, has been doing a series of speaking engagements around the state for High Schools and organizations. On Monday evening I was invited to Wiscasset to address the Lincoln County Republicans on State politics and pending legislation before the House. Tony Payne, field director for the GOP State Committee, was also there from the Youth Caucus.

The US Army Corps of Engineers held one of 12 statewide workshops on the proposed Dickey Lincoln School Lakes Hydroelectric project at the Civic Center on Tuesday. I was one of 12 individuals from New England that were selected to be on the panel to study the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) and discuss our ideas with the Corps before the EIS is published. The workshop was designed to focus in on the "Energy Utilization and Power Alternatives" connected with the proposed project.

On Tuesday, May 17th, I will be in Fort Kent for three other workshops in the series. The 9 a. m. session will deal with "Construction Impacts on Local Communities," the 2 p. m. session on "Economic Impacts" and the 7 p. m. session on the "Social Impacts."

A poorly constructed logging road that was improperly "put to sleep" last fall by the Brown Company has caused silting pollution of 20 miles of waterways from Kennebago Stream near Rangeley to Mooselookmeguntic Lake. This is one of several erosion sites caused by the spring runoff that is under investigation by the Board of Environmental Protection (BEP) and Land Use Regulation Commission (LURC).

Ken Stratton, director of LURC, came to the Natural Resources Committee with slides of the erosion and water polluted site and DEP submitted a report on the effects of aquatic life for our viewing. They also suggested legislation for the committee to submit that would give them jurisdiction to press charges on future logging operations that violated the states erosion and water quality laws.

I felt that where the legislation would effect so many of my constituents, the committee should investigate the degree of the erosion and the impact such legislation would have. Sen. Howard Trotsky, chairman of the Natural Resources Committee asked me to form a sub-committee and research the situation.

On Thursday, Rep. Ed Dixter, Kingfield, Sen. O'Leary of Mexico, Ken Stratton of LURC, and I, flew by plane over Oxford and Franklin Counties to see various logging operations that were having trouble with spring runoff. We looked at operations in the areas of: Kennebago, Parmachenee, Wilson's Mills and North Andover Surplus.

At this time I feel that the Committee on Natural Resources should wait for the Legislative study report being done on erosion by LURC before we try to legislate this problem.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

The morning was cool and breezy and with restless excitement. About 40 of us gathered at Hastings on Wild River on Saturday to explore cellar holes and learn the history about the one time village.

The greens pushed softly up all about us and here and there a bush was coming into bloom.

We went to the river and crossed the swaying bridge over noisy waters in a setting of tumbled rock and dark evergreens. In a spot beyond stood the hobble bush with its bold flowers of flat-topped clusters; showy blossoms like those of the hydrangea, common in the northern woods and mountains.

At times the wind was strong enough to bore holes in you and we wondered what it would be on Pine Mountain where we were to hike.

I have often thought of the pleasure I'd get in a tropical country with ferns above my head. I doubt whether these tree ferns could equal a forest of pine in the expression of grandeur and solemnity. The grove of white pines through which we walked had a certain harmonious blending of cheerfulness and gloom, gracefulness in foliage, lofty stature and beauty in symmetry. The wind in the wide spread branches gave a dull muffled roar. It just made your blood sparkle inside.

The only unsightly thing was the flock of cans and some bottles that had been tossed by the trail sides. I often wonder how these visitors can come in here to man's best places and leave it looking like a hogwallow.

Leaving here with our cars we were eager to climb Pine Mountain. Along the roadsides there were the leaves, grass and ever changing fancies of the flowing wind beneath bright sunshine.

It wasn't long before we arrived where we could see New England's roof top.

"Here further up the mountain slope
Than there was ever any hope
My father built, enclosed a spring
Strung chains of wall round everything....
The mountain pushed us off her knees
And now her lap is full of trees"
wrote Robert Frost

We were now off following a tractor road. In all directions it was a handsome piece of country; no advertisements to wreck the beauty of the rolling hills and the dark forests. By the road the dog-tooth violets pushed up through the moss, an indescribable carpetry of cool greenness. We could see fiddleheads of uncurled ferns. Here, too, were the painted trilliums, three white, delicately tapered petals, purple veins at the throat above three dark green leaves; making a six pointed design.

Fantastical, too, were the lichens sprawling out on the rocks like maps of imaginary continents.

The climb was gradual and it was the kind of day when a walk seemed necessary. We just fell into step. It's nice to walk when you aren't looking for anything special or in a hurry.

Only once did I hear a song bird. From the pulsing feathered throat some tiny bird, as if he had been long corked up, and suddenly un-stoppered bubbled over in melody.

After a mile and half climb we went to the ledges. Here the view was majestic displaying rivers and the valley with charm of grace and variety of forms, soft beauty; a pure, clear, sun drenched world of trees, their outlines blurred, their colors muted.

There was beyond us the great black bulk of Mount Washington rising gigantically into the sky and streaked with snow. It lay in cold ghastly shade, where here and there strange shadows cast by the mountain walls drifted beneath that deep violet vault overhead. Our view, to be sure, was goreous perfection. There is something about a mountain which engraves itself upon the emotions for one feels the forces whether it's a rugged range or a single barrier. How different it was from a night view; a full moon shining on the chilly snow of Tuckerman's Ravine, a broken sky line a vast yawning space witnessed earlier in the week.

Sitting to eat our lunch, we noticed that after the joyful tunes of the morning, the woods and wind attained a pause. (All was fine except for two eggs and no sale.)

It was wonderful walking down hill for a change. Again there were the mountains with their snowy crests bounding our view. We had spent a day, nicely planned by leaders, in an amphitheater beneath a roof of heavenly blue.

"And high in the silent mountains,
As you gaze on the hills below,
The taint of the earth will leave you, The pride of your heart will go.
You will see the smile of the Maker In the midst of the sentinels grand,
You will get a glimpse of the power And the skill of the Master's hand."
Margaret L. Simpson

CUB SCOUT SWIM

On Saturday, May 14, Eleven Cub Scouts from Bethel's Pack 566 went to Hebron for a swim in Hebron Academy's pool. They left Bethel at 11:45 a.. m. in three cars driven by Granddad Hank Rolfe, Dad and Committeeman Gregg Snyder and Cubmaster Alvin Barth. The first stop was McDonald's in South Paris where everyone stoked up on big macs, hamburgs, pies, drinks and free French fries supplied by the management. It was then on to the pool. Two short races were held and were won by Steven Snyder and Hunter Landers, deep diving for pennies saw Mike McGuire most persistent in trying to reach the bottom. Most active on the diving board was Andy Wheeler and fastest pusher of the kickboard was shared by Danny Cathcart and Jim Feeney. On the way home the group stopped and ate, again, at Dairy Queen. Thanks to all who participated. Don't forget your genius kits at the May 31 Pack meeting.

COMPLETES OUTWARD BOUND HURRICANE ISLAND COURSE

Steve Wight, owner of Sunday River Inn, recently completed a 10-day Outward Bound course at Hurricane Island off the coast of Rockland, Maine. Basic features of the course included sailing and rowing in the school's 30 foot open pulling boats, rock climbing, ropes course, and camping on islands in Penobscot Bay.

Steve, who assisted the Hurricane Island Outward Bound School in establishing its winter program in the Bethel area and now serves on an advisory committee for that program, was very excited about the sea experience and recommends it highly to anyone working in outdoor education or recreation. Of all the various outdoor programs now available, Outward Bound is the world leader. The school's dedication to safety and professionalism is apparent in all its activities, he says.

The Corporators then proceeded to elect Trustees. For the first time in several years, there was need to elect three new members to this board, two because of the same age limitation of 72 years as applies to Corporators under the new law and one by resignation by reason of increased demands of personal business. Following is the newly elected membership of the Board of Trustees for the ensuing year: Norris T. Brown, Charles S. Chapin, *Ronald C. Kendall, *Louise Lincoln, *R. Warren Hastings, Raymond G. Moran, Dexter M. Stowell, John W. Trinward, Edmond J. Vachon.

* Denotes new members — Biographical data on each will appear in a later issue of this paper.

Kimball Ames, Richard L. Davis and Robert D. Hastings were elected Trustees Emeritii and given a vote of thanks for their long, faithful and devoted service, with a combined total of 85 years.

A delicious buffet dinner was served to over sixty corporators and guests by the Bethel Inn staff.

Later in the evening, the Board of Trustees held an organizational meeting in the Bank Board Room and the following officers were elected for 1977-1978: Chairman of the Board, Edmond J.
